Broken Toys.
I found my baby girl to-day
Asleep upon the floor;
The space around her little form
With playthings scattered o'er.
Her hands were nestled 'neath her chin,
And one still firmly held
A broken toy, whose novel charm
As yet was undimmed.
There lingered still about the mouth,
On the brow, a trace
Of thought, half grieved and half perplexed,
As if the tiny face
Already had begun to learn
The look it was to wear
In years to come. I stooped to kiss
Away the mimic care;
And as I laid her still asleep,
Within her soul I saw
The smothered, the crushed pillow for
The weary little head.
I thought how we of larger growth,
When tired of pain and joy,
With that same look, full of despair,
Avoid our broken toys!
And then the Father, stooping takes
The tired head to his breast,
And smooths the furrows from the brow,
And hushes us to our rest.

Investiture of the Baron Von Mueller.
K.C.M.G., M.D., P.H.D., F.R.S., &c., &c., as a Knight Companion of the Royal Order of Kalakaua.

The important services which the above distinguished professor of botanical science has rendered to Hawaii by his generous donations of seeds and cuttings of trees and plants of commercial and sanitary value, and of volumes descriptive of the progress of his favorite pursuit in all parts of the known world, have been gratefully recognized by the bestowal upon him by His Majesty the King of the diploma and insignia creating him a Knight Companion of the Royal Order of Kalakaua. I. The recipient of this honor is a gentleman whom every civilized nation holds in the first esteem. He is present at the present moment, the most decorated citizen of the world, holding, as he does, over twenty Orders, most of them of the highest degree, from all its principal Sovereigns. He is a member corresponding and active of the principal learned and philosophical societies of all nations, and a savant whose opinions are deferred to by the leading men of science throughout Europe. It is with pleasure, therefore, that we observe that His Majesty has riveted the attachment to Hawaii, which the Baron has ever evinced, by a generous act, which appears to be most highly appreciated.

The ceremony of investiture was performed in His Majesty's name by his Consul at Melbourne, Mr. G. N. Oakley, on the 20th of March last, when Mr. Oakley, who had waited upon the Baron officially for the purpose, prefaced the presentation of the Order by the following remarks:—
"BARON VON MUELLER.—I have been commissioned by my Sovereign, the King of the Hawaiian Islands, to present to you, in his name, and that of the Hawaiian people, the expression of the thankful appreciation with which your many generous gifts to Hawaii have been received. While recognizing that words and honorary titles of distinction are but inadequate expressions of gratitude for the services you have rendered not only to this, but to the future generations of Hawaiians, I am deputed by His Majesty to tender you his thanks for the many generous gifts made not in your official capacity as Botanist to the Government of Victoria, but from your private means with which you have endowed His Kingdom, and the zeal and solicitude you have evinced in promoting its interests."
As a testimony of that appreciation, His Majesty has been pleased, by Letters Patent under his own hand, to create you a Knight Companion of His Royal Order of Kalakaua, and has commissioned me, as his representative in this colony, to invest you with the insignia pertaining to it.
"It affords me the highest pleasure to welcome you, in His Majesty's name, to the most Royal and Noble Companionship of the Knights of the Order of Kalakaua."

To this the Baron replied in the following terms:—
"It is impossible for me, Mr. Consul, to express in adequate terms my emotion of gratitude called forth by the gracious act of your Sovereign of honoring me with the membership of his Royal Order of Kalakaua. As I am conscious that I had no claims on the generous consideration of His Hawaiian Majesty, I must attribute to this graceful gift from his Throne a value all the greater; and I will endeavor, henceforth, to share more extensively in advancing the resources of those grandly beautiful Hawaiian Islands, which, by their geographic position, their serene climate, and their natural capabilities, are assuming already such importance in the history of the world."
In the efforts to transfer to the primeval regions of youthful States the natural treasures of other countries; and it must be regarded as a pardonable pride to witness when I would be the first in transferring many of the vegetable riches of Her Britannic Majesty's Australian dominions through a long series of years to other lands, never missing opportunities for enriching—so far as within my reach—the Australian colonies from abroad likewise. In cosmopolitan views, which I ever held most expensively, I have always thought we here more particularly were thus merely repaying a portion of the great debt which Australia owes to the world at large in being enabled to establish vast pastoral and agricultural wealth in regions which without the herds and flocks, and without the cereals, fruits, and other vegetable products, would ever have remained vast and unproductive. In exertions for adding also, perhaps, somewhat to the resources of the Hawaiian Islands, nothing could be more encouraging to me than the efforts, Sir, in promoting objects of such kind, and nothing could surpass the readiness ever shown by you to facilitate any transmissions or any information through the Consular office, which you maintain with so much ability, zeal, and dignity. To me it will be always pleasant to recall to my mind the fact that it is a privilege to be useful to countries which, like the Hawaiian dominions, have so much in common as regards rural interests with our far southern ports of the globe here, and which, through commerce and wisely-organized public institutions, are so intimately linked to the Australian colonies."

A LADY having heard that the force expended by the women of the civilized world in talking scandal would furnish sufficient power to turn 100,000,000,000 spindles, retorted that if the force expended by men in bragging about their darts and horses at free-lunch counters was used, it would give power enough to keep an electric light as large as the sun constantly burning.
